

Education Initiative™

FACT SHEET

Since 2011, Water Mission's Education Initiative has been supported by trained and experienced education advocates that have a passion for educating youth about the global water crisis and the work of Water Mission.

Our team brings a 45-minute presentation into classrooms in the greater Charleston community to engage and educate youth about the global water crisis. The presentation allows students to discover the need for safe water, hygiene solutions, and sanitation around the world. Additional lab exercises provide hands on learning about engineering and filtration.

Schools are invited to bring students on field trips to Water Mission. We will provide a tour of our international headquarters, further hands-on experiences for students, and an opportunity to engage with the Water Mission team and our safe water solutions.
